Betham-Edwards, from which we give an extract: "I send you the following particulars of a recent scientific invention just patented, and destined without doubt to play a very important part in our economic history. I think it must be regarded as a solution for once and for all of the great coal question, or rather fuel question, not only among ourselves but abroad. M. Bourbonnel, of Dijon, the celethe following discovery by bazard, and after six years' persistent investigation brought it to entire 'workable' perfection. He discovered by means of two natural substances, inexhaustible in nature, the means of lighting and maintaining a fire without wood or coal; a fire instantaneously lighted and extinguished; a fire causing no dust, smoke, or trouble; a fire costing one tenth at least of ordinary fuel; and, what is more wonderful still, a fire the portion of which answering to our fuel is everlasting-that is to say would last a life-time. M. Bourbonnel's invention comprehends both stove and scale or on the largest. They would be used for heating a baby's food or for roasting an ox. Being lighted instantaneously, they will be a great economy of time. M. Bourbonnel at once patented his invention, and a body of engineers and savants from Paris visited him, and pronounced his discovery the most remarkable of the age. He has had several offers for the purchase of the patent in France, but wants to sell it in England, his own occupation being in another line. Any English gentleman or firm wishing to see his fires or stoves could do so by writing to him a day or two beforehand. His address is M. Bourbonnel, Dijon. * * I bave seen these fires and stoves. There is no mistake about the matter. It is as clear as possible that here we have a perpetual and economical source of fuel. Two hundred years ago the discoverer would surely have been ent as a wizard."

wealth from Christian confidence in their treatment. They solicit cases which do not vield to our systems, and wonderful cures are parrated. Our laws require that persons desiring to practice medicine must show a diploma or certificate of competency from some regular medical association. This law virtually excludes Chinese doctors. Six of them have been cited to show cause why they do not comply with the law. We have 30,000 Chinese who have no faith in our systems. The exclusion would deprive them of medical aid in sickness. The question is, have we the right to compel people to employ doctors of our selec-

THE YAZOO AFFAIR-LETTER FROM MR. BARKSDALE. - [From the Washington Post.] The following letter from Mr. James A. Barksdale to the editor of the Jackson (Miss.) Clarion goes to substantiate the view we have taken of the question of his difficulty with Dixon. It is entirely dispassionate, and is the modest and manly all who knew him, was never engaged in personal broils, but was noted for uprightness and sobriety, and for gentleness, as well as courage. The letter was private, the editor of the Clarion being Barksdale's uncle, and consequently only extracts are published; but enough is given to show the attitude of the man who waits for his trial, knowing that he will be vindicated by the facts: Yazoo Cily, Miss., August 23, 1879 -I am grateful for your kind words of approval and sympathy. Higher considerations than even those of self-defence actuated me. If I had not felt myself overwhelmingly justifiable in the affair Dixon would have lived, so far as I was concerned, BRIEF ITEMS-PERSONAL .- The public schools of the city will be redpened on Monday week, September 15th. Happy day for many a household.

A few (very few, however) of the more venturesome young ladles of Richmond have indulged themselves by the purchase of what are known as "borse belts," more properly circingles. They are quite new for Richmond, and one young gentleman sympathizingly remarked yesterday when he saw one for the first time: "Poor girl she must have something the matter with her back." That was all wrong, however. They didn't mean anything of the sort. They cost sixty cents, and when a lady puts one on she says not circingle, but single,
